

Potent CEO, Check Yourself Chapter 7 To 8

---

Chapter 7

The Leng Clan was a very big building. When they jumped off the taxi, they finally understood why their classmates were fighting to enter the Leng Clan. It must be very comfortable for them to work here.

However, she wasn't looking for a job right now. She was looking for Leng MuXun to settle the score. She didn't know if Leng MuXun would be working today, but regardless of whether he was here, she would definitely dig him out today.

"Miss, may I know who you're looking for?"

"Cold Mourning." She called him by his name, and the more she thought about it, the angrier she got.

Her imposing manner scared the girl at the front desk, but the girl immediately calmed herself down. She had seen too much of the CEO's woman, so the one in front of her should be the new girlfriend of the CEO, right? "May I ask what your name is? Is there an appointment?"

"If you don't have an appointment, tell Leng MuXun that I'm Zhong Xiuqiu. If I want to meet him, I'll do it right away." There was urgency in her voice, urging her to hurry up. This made the receptionist completely certain that the woman in front of her was the CEO's woman.

"Miss Zhong, please wait a moment." With that, the woman made a call.

Zhong Wanqiu waited in boredom. This was really troublesome. Seeing that someone needed to make an appointment on the phone, Leng Musheng could really put on a show.

"Alright, I understand."

Soon, the woman hung up the phone and said to Zhong Weicheng, "Miss, our CEO said she doesn't know you, so ..." She watched as Zhong Wanqiu brought up the words 'Leng Muqiu'. It didn't seem like he didn't recognize Leng Mujing, but the CEO had already said that he didn't know her, so she had no choice but to ask him to leave.

“What did you say?” He doesn’t know me? ” Pointing at his own nose, Zhong Wanqiu really wanted to kill someone. Not only did he kiss her last night, but he also ate her dry and even ... He even left her alone in the hotel, giving her the cold shoulder. He actually said he didn’t know her after doing those things, he was really outrageous.

“Sorry, but our CEO isn’t here.” With a sudden change of heart, the main station lady rejected Zhong Wanqiu in the usual way. Since he was not here, it had nothing to do with her.

How could he not be there? Zhong Wanqiu could see the change in the expression of this woman. She reacted quickly and dashed towards the elevator.

“Miss Zhong ...” “Miss Zhong ...” The main station lady wanted to stop her, but she didn’t care at all. She walked quickly to the elevator door, which was just right for her. The elevator came and was empty.

She must see him today.

She didn’t know what floor Jing’s office was on, so she just remembered from the novels that the CEO’s office was on the top floor. Since the lighting was good and she could overlook the whole market, she pressed the number on the top floor after a slight hesitation.

The elevator was like her own staircase, and no one else was coming.

The elevator door opened and Zhong Wanqiu walked out. The corridor was a bit dark, so he rubbed his eyes before heading straight to the office. He passed by the emergency exit staircase.

Zhong Wanqiu didn’t say anything. She just wanted to see Leng Muxian and make an excuse for herself, but at this moment, a low voice entered her ears, “Hmm ...” Ah ... “Howl ...” It was such an unrestrained sound, and it was right on the staircase. Zhong Wanqiu subconsciously glanced at the entrance of the staircase, and for the first time, she was half a beat slower than she should have been. Unexpectedly, she walked towards the staircase as if she was bewitched by something, and thought someone had fallen down, so she rushed over to help.

Chapter 8

She thought someone had fallen, so she rushed over to help.

“Miss, should I call 120?” Zhong Wanqiu shouted loudly as he rushed towards the stairwell.

“Ah ...” The woman’s shrieks suddenly rang out. In the eyes of Zhong Xianqiu, what followed was a chaotic scene to behold, a chaotic scene to behold.

In front of him, Leng Mujing was dressed neatly, from top to bottom, there was nothing wrong with his shirt and pants, there wasn’t even a little crease. However, one of his hands had landed on the woman’s chest, the position of his hand was really ... It was really ... Is not suitable for children...

Ah ...” Ah ... “Ahh!” “This time, it was Zhong Wanqiu who screamed. She really did not expect to see such a scene, because the woman was extremely embarrassed. The top of her shirt had been unbuttoned, and the worst thing was that her skirt had fallen to her knees ...

This was in broad daylight, this was in the office building.

That scene made Zhong Wanqiu’s face turn red with embarrassment as he turned around and ran. He immediately threw the matter of him calling 120 to the back of his mind.

Her two legs could run as fast as a rabbit’s, but no matter how fast she was, Leng Mian’s long legs could not be faster. With a stride, he caught up to her.

The pain was so excruciating that Zhong Wanqiu had no choice but to stop running as he was forced to do so. He was carried to the front of the youth by Leng Mu as if he was a little chick.

Lowering her head, she no longer dared to look at the man and woman before her. It was as if she was the one who had revealed herself in the stairwell and not the woman.

“Put...” “Let me go.” It was a soft voice, and when she thought of the scene from a moment ago, her face turned red and her heart started pounding.

That was the first time she saw the ambiguous scene of a man and a woman together.

“It’s you?” It seemed that he hadn’t expected it to be her, so when he saw her, he was surprised for a split-second. “Ah! I remember now. Are you called Zhong Xiuqiu?” As if suddenly recalling something, Leng Muxian looked at her with a twinkling gaze.

“Yes, yes, I’m Zhong Xiuqiu. Let me go.”

Leng Mian’s hand finally let go of her, but she didn’t show the slightest bit of embarrassment on her face. She casually asked, “What are you doing here?”

“I... I want you to be responsible for me. ” After hesitating for a long time, she finally managed to speak in a soft voice.

“What responsibility?”

“Didn’t you... “It’s not ...” Her brain was starting to feel numb, and she didn’t know what to say.

You have to compensate me for my clothes. Don’t think that just because I paid for the hotel room for you, you can stick to me without a care. You can check and find out.

“I... “I ...” She was getting more and more confused as she could not understand what he was saying.

“I’ve said it before, I have never lacked women. I’ve seen many ways to deal with them, but look, which one succeeded? “Zhong Xiuqiu, don’t even think about it.”

“I... I don’t want to pester you, it’s just that, it’s just that, I ... “I ...”

“You didn’t want to pester me?” Ye Zichen raised his eyebrows, then looked down at her with his arms crossed. “If that’s the case, then you can leave. I don’t want to see you again.” He walked past her to his office.
